Hancock Budget To Provide Pay Increase For 67

In direct contrast to the financial picture of last year, when personnel slashes were ordered because of a shortage of revenue, the 1961 budget adopted Tuesday by Hancock County commissioners shows an increase of $80,000 for operating county government. Monthly salary increases of $20 for the 67 county employees were approved in the budget for fiscal 1961.

LAST YEAR'S budget was $456,032 and required commissioners to order seven employees cut from the county payroll because of a shortage of funds.

But an $8 million boost in assessments this year and the accompanying relief of not having to turn over to the County Board of Education a share of its budget funds changed the financial picture.

Because assessments in 1960 were not up to a 50 per cent level of the actual valuation set by the West Virginia State Tax Commissioner, county commissioners were forced to turn over $46,000 last year to the County Board of Education as a penalty.

COUNTY EMPLOYEES, including clerks in the Courthouse in New Cumberland, welcomed the salary raise. Only last month, commissioners provided for a retirement plan for them for the first time under provisions of the West Virginia Public Employees Retirement Act.

Among expenditures approved in the budget were $10,800 for the salaries of the two dog wardens, $6,900 for the probation officer, $19,500 for the County Infirmary, $33,486 for the County Health Department, and $26,486 for the County Children's Home at Pugh-town.

Other estimated expenditures include:

Clerk of County Court, $4,840; deputy clerks, $18,140; clerk of Circuit Court, $3,800; deputy clerks of Circuit Court, $7,520; sheriff and treasurer, $4,800; deputy sheriffs, $82,600; expenses of processing and serving papers, $1,900; prosecuting attorney, $5,400.

ASSISTANT prosecuting attorney and employees, $6,900; assessor, $4,800; deputy assessors and employees, $33,360; assessor's mileage, $1,480; county commissioners, $10,680; volunteer fire departments, $2,250; county agricultural agents, $7,630; audits by tax commissioner, $3,000.

Judge of Circuit Court, $3,000 (supplemental salary); prosecuting attorney, $1,900; expense of Circuit and Intermediate Courts, $8,000; workmen's compensation, $800; jail expense, feeding prisoners, $9,500; Courthouse expenses, $2,000; janitor, Courthouse and jail, $8,240; furniture and expenses, $1,000.

Repairs, $10,000; water, light and fuel, $6,000; record books, $7,000; stationery and office supplies, $10,000; rents, cemeteries, $10,000; postage, $2,000; reporting

Return In November

Legislature Ends 2-Day Session With Brief Fling

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Legislature, after a brief fling at "while the cat's away the mice will play," has called it quits until a Nov. 14 financial session.

A few firecrackers exploded weakly as the lawmakers, far from a happy mood, ended their regular session after seven months of sometimes bitter frustration.

In the absence of Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, who entered a Columbus hospital for minor surgery, some senators acted at the last minute like they were going to take the bit in their teeth and run.

After several amendments had been adopted to spend money the state doesn't have for capital improvements, level heads prevailed in the Senate and the entire $423 million additions and betterments bill was defeated on an 18-18 tie vote. The defeat, however, can be reconsidered when the legislature reconvenes in November to study Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's veto of the entire second-year appropriation tion of the current two-year budget period.

Two seemingly interminable days of consideration of DiSalle vetoes produced only two overrides. The other 13 vetoes pending Monday when the legislature returned to Columbus were sustained.

Overridden Tuesday was DiSalle's veto of the second year of the biennial appropriation to increase the strength of the highway patrol by 50 men a year. DiSalle had vetoed the second-year appropriation to be consistent with his earlier veto of the second year of the general state-operations budget.

In the only other veto pending when lawmakers met Tuesday, the House sustained the governor's objections to a bill which would have exempted non-profit hospitals from liability for the ordinary negligence of their employees. The Sen-

West Eyes High Parley Over Berlin

Ministers Could Set Plan For Top Talks At Meeting In Paris

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Western foreign ministers meeting which opens in Paris at the end of this week may lay the ground work for a Western summit conference on the Berlin crisis in the fall.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Tuesday that a meeting of President Kennedy with other allied government chiefs is "certainly possible" before the end of the year.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is scheduled to leave late Thursday night for Paris. He will confer with French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville, Foreign Secretary Lord Home of Britain and Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano of West Germany on diplomatic and military measures for meeting the Soviet challenge to the West over Berlin.

Several reasons for a followup session of Western chiefs of government could emerge from the Paris talks. The ministers may find some problems they cannot solve or some problems which require top level sanction for final agreement. They may also decide that any diplomatic initiative undertaken by the West as the Berlin crisis grows grimmer would be more effectively launched from a Western summit conference.

There appears to be at least some slight increase in hope in official quarters here that East-West negotiations over the Berlin demands and threats made by Soviet Premier Khrushchev will in the end provide a peaceful way out of the crisis.

Khrushchev is understood to have indicated to U.S. disarmament chief John J. McCloy last week that he was interested in the possibility of negotiations and thought a reasonable settlement should be possible.

As officials here understand Khrushchev's present position, however, he conceives of a reasonable settlement only on Soviet terms which the Western powers consider completely unacceptable. One of the problems before the Western foreign ministers meeting in Paris will be to try to devise proposals for negotiation which would lead to an end to the crisis without in any way weakening or endangering Western rights in West Berlin.

Judge Frees Youth In 'Car Repair' Case

An East End youth was found not guilty today in Municipal Court on a charge of violating a seldom-invoiced city ordinance which prohibits repair of autos on streets, but Judge Samuel M. Chertoff told the defendant to keep his wheelless, motorless auto on his own property or in a garage.

Darrell Leak, 1723 Cleveland Ave., faced a charge filed by Patrolman Paul Carter, accusing him of leaving his auto in Short Alley, a half-block stretch that connects E. 2nd and E. 3rd Sts. near Broadway. Cited Friday, he had been in jail since because he was unable to raise bond, he told the judge.

The judge indicated two factors helped him decide the case in the youth's favor — the car is not registered in his name, but his mother's, and there was no testimony to show any work actually was performed on the auto in the month it was parked in the alley.

Officer Carter testified police received several complaints that the auto was parked in Short Alley. He said the motor and three

Driver Jailed As Auto Runs Wild 300 Feet

Car Stops On Yard Of Dresden Home; Motorist Unhurt

A 27-year-old East End man escaped injury early today when his auto ran out of control for nearly 300 feet on outer Dresden Ave., finally swapping ends and knocking down a hedge, but the driver went to jail on a charge of operating a car while under the influence of alcohol.

Edwin Lee Conkle, 1142 Harker Ave., was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail when he pleaded guilty to the drunken driving charge this morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. His operator's permit also was suspended for six months.

The spectacular crash was timed at 3:29 a. m. Conkle's 1955 sedan finally came to a halt on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Ruth Brooks, 1803 Dresden Ave., after smashing into a hedge, officers said.

Conkle told police he was returning to East Liverpool from Hig's Inn in California Hollow, but did not recall what happened after he rounded a curve. He freely admitted to having "quite a few beers," officers said. The car first traveled 111 feet

300 Teachers To Get Raise In Hancock School System

More State Aid Clears Salary Hike

$715,935 Increase Shown In Fund To Total Of $872,431

The Hancock County Board of Education adopted its 1961-62 school calendar Tuesday night, providing for increases in teacher salaries and extended terms for the instructors to 10 full months.

Boosts in teachers' salaries were made possible because of a huge increase in state aid, the extended schedule, a booming enrollment and laws passed by the West Virginia Legislature.

The board extended from 193 days to 200 days the teaching schedule for the term. The term for pupils will be only 180 days. However, instructors will use the 20 "extra" days attending workshop sessions.

The legislature provided for the increase in salaries for teachers to $20 a month for a 9½-month schedule, but the schedule for Hancock instructors will be $20 a month for 10 full months of work.

Because of overall growth, and numerous other factors, the county school system will receive $872,431 in state aid this year, an increase of $715,935 from last year.

State aid for last term was only $56,496.

The new salary schedule, with last year's figures in parenthesis for comparison, is $4,550, beginning salary for a bachelor of arts degree without experience, ($4,196); $6,230, maximum salary for a bachelor of arts with 16 years experience, ($5,821); $4,835, beginning salary for a master's degree, ($4,470), and $6,515, maximum salary for a master's degree with 16 years experience, ($6,095).

Approximately 300 teachers in the system will benefit by the higher salary schedule.

The board also approved a plan of dismissing school for one day at the end of each six-week period so that instructors may be available for conferences with parents, and to have time to work on reports and records.

Foreign Aid Bill Pressed By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is turning over every political rock on Capitol Hill in the most intensive campaign a president ever put on for a foreign aid bill.

Members of the Senate and House accustomed to being lobbied for their support of legislation say they have never seen anything like the energy Kennedy is investing in his drive to get approval of a long-range development loan program.

In groups and singly the President has had members in to make his case in behalf of his $8.8-billion request for development lending over five years to struggling new nations. Of this, $7.3 billion would come in borrowing from the Treasury without year-to-year congressional approval. The rest would come from repayments of postwar loans.

This adds up to a heap of presidential authority to ask from Congress, always jealous of its control of the purse strings.

The Kennedy campaign has been mapped carefully and pursued vigorously. He got a Citizens Committee for International Development to work drumming up popular support. The AFL-CIO chipped in with a letter-writing campaign.

British Start Debate Over Market Move

Stormy Issue Due 2-Day Discussion Before Parliament

LONDON (AP) — The British House of Commons today opens what is likely to be one of its stormiest debates—on whether the nation should join the thriving six-nation European Common Market.

Despite opposition from a number of the ruling Conservatives as well as many Laborites, the trend on both sides of the House was clearly in favor of the principle of British membership in the European Economic Community. Prime Minister Harold Macmillan was expected to squeeze out a vote of approval at the end of the two-day wrangle.

The way will then be clear for Macmillan's government to start negotiations with the Common Market members — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. The British will demand tariff concessions for their Commonwealth partners whose economies are dependent on the British market and possibly exemption from the trend toward political unity that is slowly developing within the Continental Six.

In his announcement Monday that Britain would seek membership in the EEC, Macmillan stressed he would require guarantees to protect Commonwealth trade and that the other Commonwealth governments would be consulted fully before Britain entered the continental group.

Macmillan's pledge to safeguard Commonwealth trade reportedly brought a number of reluctant Conservatives around to his side.

Steel Production May Pass Predicted Level

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel production is headed for a higher-than-expected peak late this year, Iron Age said today.

The metalworking trade publication said predictions of close to 100 million tons of steel produced this year seem reasonable.

Output now is at about 60 per cent of capacity and probably won't average more than 65 per cent in the third quarter but 75 to 80 per cent for the fourth quarter is likely, Iron Age said.

May Be Called Air Force Alerts 71 Reserve Units

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force has alerted 28,000 men in 71 Air National Guard and Air Reserve units for a possible call to active duty as a part of the defense buildup to meet the Berlin crisis.

The announcement Tuesday came after President Kennedy signed legislation authorizing him to call to active duty up to 250,000 reservists and extend active duty tours and enlistments by one year.

It follows Air Force announcement Monday that four Air Force bases, slated to be retired from active use, would remain on active status to provide facilities for continued operation of B47 jet bombers which will be retained in service.

Some 240 bombers and tankers slated to give way to later model aircraft will continue in use instead of being deactivated.

The 64 Air National Guard and 7 Reserve units alerted Tuesday fly tactical fighters, reconnaissance planes and transports. About 750 aircraft are involved, including about 100 transports.

The units were authorized to bring themselves up to full strength, which means they must recruit about 5,000 men. Present strength is about 28,000.

The alert involved units in 28 states and the District of Columbia. This included National Guard units in 26 states and the District and Air Force ready Reserve units in five states, two of which were not involved in the National Guard alerts.

The message to governors and Continental Air Command headquarters said:

"This is only an advisory notice. Certain Air National Guard units may be ordered to active duty to augment the present active force. The following tactical and standby and-or technical

Belmont County Tragedy

Angry Father Kills His 3 Children Then Slays Self

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—"I love the kids and you so much I can't live without you."

That was a note written Tuesday by a 26-year-old father who had just shot to death his three children and wounded his wife. A little later the man, Clyde Newhart of nearby Morristown, took his own life, Belmont County sheriffs deputies said.

Deputies said Newhart, apparently enraged by a pending divorce by his wife, picked up the children at the home of relatives, drove to a dump north of the little village and killed them with blasts from a 12-gauge shotgun. Bodies of the youngsters, twins Randy and Candy, 18-months, and Bobby, 2½, were found by officers after the father left a note telling where he had killed them. Officers said Randy still held a toy truck in his hand.

After killing the children, Newhart drove to his home where he shot his wife, Peggy, in the chest and left the note. A little later, a woman called the sheriff to report that she had seen a man shoot himself at a strip mine about six miles west of Morristown. The man was Newhart.

Authorities still are not sure what touched off the tragedy.

Earlier Tuesday, Mrs. Newhart filed for a divorce, charging her husband with associating with other women, drinking intoxicants to excess and beating and choking her. She also obtained a temporary restraining order preventing Newhart from molesting the children. She said he took the children away Sunday. Tuesday they were at the home of relatives when Newhart picked them up.

Neighbors said Newhart had been trying to reconcile differences with his wife shortly after she returned from filing for the divorce. They were married in 1958.

Mrs. Newhart was taken to General Hospital in Barnesville where she was reported in fair condition.

wheels were missing. The auto was ticketed on several occasions and the tickets were removed but no penalty ever was paid, he testified.

He said he cited Leak when he finally found him seated in the auto Friday. The 1956 city ordinance says a street or alley cannot be used for any work on a motor vehicle except emergency repairs.

Leak testified the motor in his auto "blew up" June 1. He said he turned it over to another man who was to install a new motor. For lack of funds and other reasons, installation of the motor was delayed and the man who was to make the repair towed it to the alley from his garage, Leak testified.

At the time of the arrest, the auto was towed away. Officer Carter testified. The judge told Leak he must take the auto to his own property or a garage and it cannot be left on the street.

Darrell A. Baumgartner of Bridge St. was scheduled for trial on a reckless driving charge today, but the affidavit was dismissed on motion of Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark. Officer Carter signed a warrant alleging the offense occurred July 20.

Samuel Hampton Jr. of McKee St. appeared before the judge this morning on an illegal registration charge. He was cited at 2:23 this morning on Dresden Ave., police said. Hampton told the judge he bought the car about July 20 but did not remove the plates of the former owner and obtain a new license.

The judge continued the case until Tuesday and told Hampton to obtain proper registration meanwhile.

When The Comparison Goes Sour

There is every good reason to hope that Chrysler Corp. has found the right management combination to give it all the prestige it deserves as the junior partner in the automotive Big Three. The United States needs Chrysler. Its stockholders and employees need it, and they deserve it. They have shown faith, and their faith has been vindicated by some of the industry's great engineering advances.

The corporation's recent management troubles are a reminder that of the three components of the free enterprise system the most important is management. Stockholders and creditors look to management for their security. Labor depends on management for its security. There are always more stockholders to be found, and always creditors to be found. There is never an absolute shortage of labor. But when things are not going right, there can be and often is an absolute shortage of management.

There is no implication here of inadequacy in individuals, though that can happen too. The inadequacy is more often in groups of individuals who do not work well together, like members of a baseball team who have personal talents but are not coordinated for team action.

As American business and industry become more complex and more unwieldy the premium on management keeps on rising. There is less temptation than there used to be to say that businessmen could transform Washington from a bundle of confusion into a masterpiece of organization. The fact is, they have performed no miracles in Washington when they practiced their talents there. Even the biggest ones have had a significant tendency to look smaller against the government's size.

The recent tendency, ironically, has been to take men trained in government responsibility into private enterprise. Generals and admirals reaching retirement age, or reaching an age when retirement age is going to be the next step, never have had it so good. Jobs in private enterprise hunt them as soon as they signify intent to take off their uniforms.

It has been a long time since anyone wondered wistfully why government didn't solve its management problems by calling in businessmen. The businessmen these days are calling in management experts to tell them how to solve their own problems and then, not infrequently, scouting around for a government expert.

Now It's A Neutron Bomb

References to the possibility of a "neutron bomb" are becoming more frequent. They all are in the same reference frame—that this would be the ultimate weapon, an improvement over both the H-bomb and the A-bomb.

Yet the N-bomb has come into discussion as a potential key element in warfare before the people whose lives would be affected by it know what it is. Few of them have even a rudimentary understanding of the A-bomb and H-bomb.

The vital fact about the N-bomb, relative to its two predecessors, is that it would destroy only life, not property. An N-bomb could be dropped inside a large city, its "explosion" would kill a large number of people, yet every building would remain standing. Not even windows would be broken.

The theory that would make this possible has been discussed for more than four years. Interest in the theory grew out of the search for a thermonuclear bomb that would produce no radioactive debris—a bomb so "clean" its lethal effects could not be carried on the wind back toward the country that built it.

It was learned that radioactive debris is produced by the nuclear bomb that triggers a thermonuclear bomb—the fission bomb that explodes the fusion bomb. By eliminating the trigger bombs, a pure fusion action could be produced. This would be a neutron bomb.

It would do its damage with neutrons instead of heat, explosive force and radioactive fallout. Neutrons are subatomic particles in the nucleus of the atom; they would be emitted in enormous quantities. They would be capable of penetrating walls, steel, clothing, stone, killing all living things. That would be the limit of the bomb's action—emission of neutrons.

There would be no radioactive poison to be washed away before the area would be safe again. There would be no chaos—only death.

This is the newest form of atomic horror. This is the thing being referred to in speculation about a new kind of bomb—an N-bomb that would make both the A-bomb and H-bomb archaic.

A Fairly Obvious Solution

Among three Federal Aviation Agency ideas for curbing the growing practice of commandeering airplanes in flight, one is so obvious that every editorialist in the country thought of it automatically when a Cuban-born waiter seized a commercial airliner at gunpoint and took it to Havana.

Seizing an airplane, the FAA recommends, should be the equivalent of piracy on the high seas. Those who are convicted on charges of aerial piracy should be sentenced to life imprisonment, under the laws of the United States. This is a much more moderate recommendation than had been made by most editorialists. They wanted it to be punishable by hanging.

They reverted in their thinking to a time when piracy was considered to be a crime against mankind, itself, not just one nation. As a crime against the human race, piracy could be punished in any established court in any country. And it was punishable by something more drastic than a life sentence.

This did not wholly prevent piracy on the high seas, but it did discourage it to the degree that it hasn't been a problem since 1803, when the United States cleaned out the pirates who operated from the "shores of Tripoli." And it seems logical that sky pirates could be routed by the same forthright action, perhaps starting with Cuba.

FAA's other two recommendations are for laws making it a federal crime to assault, threaten, intimidate or interfere with flight crew personnel and to carry concealed weapons aboard an airliner. These might have some effect, but the wallop would be to establish the crime of piracy in the air as firmly and clearly as it was established on the high seas when pirates were the enemies of all mankind.

Director Hoover Is Clear

It is too much to hope that J. Edgar Hoover will be understood in a blast against pardoning and paroling and suspending the sentences of convicted criminals. His comments appear in the August issue of the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin.

Of 154 individuals on the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives" list between March 1950 and June 1961, he declares, 130 previously had received suspended sentences, parole, or probation.

"Nothing discourages and disheartens law enforcement officers more than the knowledge that their efforts in apprehending criminals are too often no more than useless expenditures of time and money — useless because unwarranted leniency in the form of suspended sentences, parole, or probation so frequently makes a mockery of good police work," sadly concludes the FBI director.

He feels strongly that vice is the breed-

The Once Over

Telephone chats by satellites are near and ultimately a housewife in Hoboken may tie up outer space situation as she gossips with a friend in Glasgow or Johannesburg. AT&T has signed up with Washington to get the "hello satellites" up there in the skies, so voices, messages and even TV shows can be bounced around the world with greatest of ease.

The heavens will be full of voices saying: "I hear she left her husband yesterday." "No, this is not Barney's fish market." "Aw hang up; you're on a busy satellite."

Maybe you will phone the grocer across the street and get one in the Casbah, Port Said or Dublin. Mistakes will happen on the phone, with or without bouncing messages by a chain of satellites.

TV shows through outer space will one day be flashed all over the earth, it is predicted. (This could kill world peace and multiply charges of aggression, especially if the satellites carry cowboys, marshals and frontier badmen.)

There will be competition by TV stars to make their satellite debuts with real trouble if Jackie Gleason doesn't bump well from satellite to satellite or Jack Paar hears his show met with interference on the third satellite from the left.

NEW YORK'S POLITICAL ruckus is so full of scandals, the city has run out of closets.

Frank Sullivan, praising the beauty of the flower-boxes at Saratoga, says "Hoffa hasn't organized the petunias yet."

Joe DiMaggio, Roy Campanella and Jackie Robinson topped all others in applause at the baseball old-timers ceremonies.

World record price for a yearling, $130,000, was paid at auction the other day by John Olin, among whose corporations is the former Winchester Repeating Arms Company. He hopes the colt will "perform like a gun from the barrier."

An 'Eternal' Triangle

Reds Willing But Not 'Abel'

By Victor Riesel

ANKARA There is no business like spy business. Over in Rome, there are Soviet intelligence agents offering $10,000 (in any currency) for a valid American passport.

They'll take one. They'll take 10. They want them so they can disguise their people as U.S. citizens and slip them into our country to beef up their underground.

And in this part of the Near East you soon learn that none work harder at the spy business than the Soviet spy masters. And none are deadlier.

Recently they gunned down a young British counter-intelligence agent over in Kyrenia, Cyprus. Not too long ago he had been in on the exposure of the Russians' key London agent, George Blake — a Red spy so strategically placed inside Britain that he had been able to tip Moscow on the identity of 40 top British agents, and a few Americans, too.

THE MURDERED young British operative, Peter Gray, reportedly had been nosing too closely around still another Moscow master spy.

The dead man's operation is the kind the Russians cannot afford. Good agents are hard to come by. Despite its 300,000 spies, the Soviets know that scientifically trained, truly professional global spymasters are scarcer than a scooter-less street in Rome.

Of these few there is one who knows more about the United States and how to infiltrate us than anyone in the Soviet espionage hierarchy.

The only trouble — for the Russians, that is — lies in the fact that this agent is in Atlanta, Ga., prison. There he is listed as Rudolf Ivanovich Abel. But that's not his name. That's how he was identified when the FBI deftly cracked the case. But no one in America knows who "Abel" is.

For some years now the Central Intelligence Agency has been doing a worldwide check. But no luck. The Russians have covered him well. They want him back.

THEY WANT HIM back so badly that he is the only spy they've ever recognized as their own.

When he was arrested the Soviet Embassy sent two of its people over to confer with him. They had never done this before. They haven't done it since.

Remember, Rudolf Ivanovich, now 60, was not a Soviet diplomat and ostensibly had no connection with the Russian government. The Russians want him so badly they've been offering U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers in exchange. Every intelligence service in Europe knows this.

It's grim but it should be reported that every intelligence service feels that such a deal would be accepting the exchange of a courageous airplane pilot — really an airborne mechanic who was not a spy, in the professional jargon — for a man who can be worth many divisions of troops to the USSR.

Why? Because the Russians now are trying to drive us out of central Europe. There is much I have learned of Rudolph Ivanovich Abel.

Before he slipped into the U.S. in 1948, Abel worked in East Germany. He is an expert on central Europe. He knows Berlin. He can combine this with his knowledge of America, which he covered silently for nine years.

FURTHERMORE, he knows the links between various global Soviet rings. It may be forgotten by this time but in the past few years there was one such ring which stretched from New York to Australia and into London.

In London it was headed by a Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kroger. Its specialty was naval secrets.

This is a most vital area since many experts believe that the strongest nuclear sea power will be the strongest nation.

It will be almost impossible to wipe out a retaliatory nuclear surface and underwater force. As we strengthen our naval power we are closing air bases in England and elsewhere.

The Kroger spy ring stole vital naval secrets from the British—enough secrets to give the Russians the same creeping-up time in this type of warfare as the Klaus Fuchs spy ring gave the Russians in the atomic field.

The Peter Krogers are Americans. Their name is as fake as the passports which the Russians forged for them so they could travel from New York to Australia and then settle in London.

THEIR RING was so effective it shook the British Admiralty and only Prime Minister Macmillan was able to save its top command.

Now it can be positively reported that the "Krogers" and "Rudolf Ivanovich Abel" were in direct contact. They used the same type of secret short-wave equipment. Abel operated out of the heart of New York — from which the Krogers came.

It is believed that Abel gave the orders via the airwaves. Abel knew everything. Now the Russians want him and his knowledge so they can set up an "American desk" somewhere in East Germany. Abel would head it.

He might in fact direct much of the Soviet's Berlin operation. That's what makes it tough on U2 pilot Francis G. Powers.

The Russians want us to pay heavily for him — perhaps with a Russian general by name of, well, call him Abel for the moment.

Reds Plan Long Struggle

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON You can expect world turmoil for the rest of your life. Not big war, maybe, but endless conflict, struggle, revolution around the globe.

It's all spelled out calmly in the Russian Communist party's program for the next 20 years, and beyond.

This program, the first laid down in Moscow since 1919, was released Saturday. It fills 64 columns of print in the New York Times.

When Hitler wrote "Mein Kampf" — his blueprint for the wild savagery of Nazism later — unfortunately no one took it seriously.

It looked like the work of a neurotic, and it was.

No doubt many men had a hand in the new Russian Communist party program which has the blessing of Premier Khrushchev. No one is calling this neurotic.

It is frankly and confidently Moscow's blueprint for world conquest by communism. This must be taken as seriously as Mein Kampf should have been.

It is divided into two main parts. One is a catalogue of rosy promises of a richer and easier life for the Russian people in the next 20 years.

It was this part of the program which got most attention when it was made public over the weekend.

The other, predicting the ultimate triumph of communism without a timetable, is the blueprint for the long, fierce, unending struggle ahead.

Reading the full text in this part of the program makes the idea of "peaceful coexistence," which Khrushchev preaches, look like an exercise in the Communist lexicon of double-speak.

It says quite blandly that peaceful coexistence between communism and capitalism is not only possible but desirable. After all, it explains, this just gives communism more time to take over.

It says, for instance: "Communists have never held that the road to revolution lies necessarily through wars between countries. The great objective of the working class can be realized without war."

The real chiller is Moscow's idea of what should be happening through that long twilight period of peaceful coexistence — that everywhere Communists should be trying to take over whatever country they're in.

The means may vary but the central theme is revolution. The revolution may not necessarily be violent, if, for example, Communists could get elected in enough numbers to control a parliament and thus take over government.

The program sounds a little skeptical that Communists are going to conquer many places without violent revolution. It says: "Leninism maintains, and historical experience confirms, that the ruling classes do not yield power of their own free will."

That's the polite way of saying you'll have to fight for it, boys.

The program emphasizes that one country after another should be knocked off from within—to avoid war—although the exact method will vary from country to country, depending on how much and what kind of opposition there is.

This advice is given:

"The success of the struggle which the working class wages for the victory of the revolution will depend on how well the working class and its party master the use of all forms of struggle—peaceful and non-peaceful, parliamentary and extra-parliamentary—and how well they are prepared to replace one form of struggle by another as quickly and unexpectedly as possible."

The Russians are too practical to assume that Communists outside Russia will have enough sense to do things right by themselves.

So the program reassures them: "The Communist party of the Soviet Union will continue to strengthen the unity and cohesion of the ranks of the great army of Communists of all countries."

Boiled down to one sentence this means for unnumbered years ahead Communists everywhere around the world, with Russian help, will be trying to knock off one country after another—hoping all eventually will fall under the Red banner.

Ant colonies keep rose aphids as if they were cows, apparently to enjoy the nutritious honeydew they excrete.

A Glimmer Of Hope

By David Lawrence

K's 20-Year Plan Raises Question

IN EUROPE Ever so often the Communist party in Moscow has come up with a new 5-year plan or with a renewal of a previous 5-year plan.

Nikita Khrushchev, however, takes a longer stride — he now proposes a 20-year plan. None of the plans ever teaches completion, but all serve a temporary purpose — David Lawrence to keep down internal unrest and to postpone indefinitely the reforms which the people have been promised.

If a plan doesn't materialize, that is, of course, supposed to be the fault of the capitalist countries.

Hence it's necessary from the Moscow viewpoint to direct the finger of accusation constantly at the West — which is presumably seeking war or otherwise disturbing the even flow of welfare benefits inside the Communist countries.

The new 20-year plan announced by the Soviet premier promises that two decades hence in Russia almost everything will be free — water, heat, gas, electricity, education, medical services, apartments and transportation. Also, taxes are to be abolished and meals will be free during working hours.

There is, however, one big fly in the ointment. Everything is to be free except life itself. In a jail, too, things are free — including food, light, heat and rent. Taxes also are abolished, because there is no income.

The 20-year plan does not say a word about freedom from enslavement. There still is to be no such thing as free speech, free assembly, a free press and freedom of worship.

In other words, the human mind is to be kept under duress — in prison — indefinitely.

The emphasis instead is on material things — as if spiritual things are of no significance. This concept, however, is the essence of communism.

There is another fallacy of gross proportions in the 20-year plan. Who is to produce all the goods? Who is to raise all the food? The Soviet people — of course — but they are to be rewarded only as the state sees fit.

Up to now the slogan of the Communist party has been: "From each according to his abilities, to each in accordance with his work." Now this has been amended in the 20-year plan to read: "From each according to his ability, to each according to his needs."

THIS MEANS that the central government decides what are the "needs" of each individual. Can human needs — material and spiritual — be standardized? Can all minds be made to conform to "need" only what the government says each person must accept as it measure of human comfort?

In order, of course, to show you how hard it is to put the plan into effect, the Communist leaders are already pointing to the Western countries as obstacles.

The Soviet premier attributes all sorts of hostile motives to other nations and arrogates to himself the role of a virtuous world leader.

His plan, set forth in a document, is the first major program of the Communist party produced since Lenin's program of 1919.

It is full of bitter denunciation of the system of free enterprise in the West. No mention is made, on the other hand, of the high standard of living of the 180 million people in the United States or the rapid progress being made today in Western Europe, which, in the 16 years since the close of World War II, has experienced unprecedented economic growth and better conditions of living for the masses than ever before known on the Continent.

It is the Communist strategy to attempt to tear all this down with sweeping phrases of derogation, but the truth does travel by word of mouth across the boundary lines and, despite the suppression of newspapers and radio, it does spread.

There is indeed behind the Iron formation as to how well Americans and Western Europeans really live.

IT WAS ABRAHAM LINCOLN who said, "You can fool all the people some of the time, and some of the people all the time, but you cannot fool all the people all the time."

That's the real dilemma which the Soviet regime faces as it issues a smokescreen of thousands of words in the new 20-year plan.

It leaves unanswered the $64,000 question: "How is it going to be possible to carry out a 20-year plan of free grants of everything if there is to be a nuclear war that destroys it all in just a few hours or days of missile fire?"

Maybe Mr. Khrushchev is even more sensitive as a politician than he has been reported to be — for he knows his biggest potential enemy is a restless and desperate people inside the Soviet Union, and that a nuclear war, or a conventional war, can bring to Russia another revolution such as occurred in 1917, when the army joined the people in demanding an end to war.

There is a glimmer of hope for world peace in all this — if Khrushchev really is determined to accomplish even a small part of his 20-year plan. For he cannot achieve Utopia if he has to keep on building an expensive armament machine to back up his perennial threats of war.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Martin W. Essex, superintendent of schools at Middleport, Ohio, Meigs County, was named principal of East Liverpool High School.

TEN YEARS AGO — W. H. Daugherty was named worthy master of the newly organized East Liverpool Township grange.

Letters To The Editor

On July 28, the Calcutta Volunteer Fire Brigade sponsored a parade.

I wonder how many people have stopped to meditate on the unselfish participation of those who comprise these brigades. As a resident, I am profoundly thankful for such a service. The alacrity with which the alarms are responded to is amazing. It was a pleasing sight to see other units from both near and far bolster up the parade.

The many hours spent on such a venture in all its fields must be tremendous and a great sacrifice. Surely this is the spirit of true Americanism and all it stands for, particularly so as a citizen. I only hope the residents realize the spirit which prompts these people. Surely they deserve praise which is long overdue "and when the call comes to help them" the response will be instantaneous.

May the next parade be bigger and better and become an affair of residential participation. Interest such as this breeds the friendship of a good and proud community. It also seems an opportune time to praise and thank our Calcutta road crews. In my travels in both large and small communities, especially during the winter months, I have yet to find better service. All roads under their jurisdiction were thoroughly taken care of regardless of the severity of the weather. Again I offer profound thanks to these two groups.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon were directed to write all of the senators and representatives urging support for the President's plan.

But from experience in both the House and Senate, Kennedy knows there is no lobbyist like the president himself. So key legislators still are trooping daily to the White House.

So far, Kennedy is described as having played his cards close to his shirtfront. He has offered no compromises while probing his visitors for suggestions on how the bill might be changed to attract more votes.

Bradys Run Park To Get Tennis Courts

BEAVER FALLS — Construction is scheduled to begin this week on two tennis courts at Bradys Run Park near Beaver Falls by the Beaver County Department of Public Works.

The recommendation for the courts was made by Beaver County Commissioner Eli Corak of Midland. The county also plans to build an additional 1,000 tables for Bradys Run and Economy Park due to the large crowds this summer.

new pupils into the system brought about the boosts in teachers' salaries.

Supt. Robert H. Hall pointed out the county gained about 100 pupils last year even though a change was made in the age deadline of those entering the first grade.

At the close of last term, there were 8,047 pupils attending county schools in Newell, Chester, New Cumberland, Weirton and Pugh-town. Supt. Hall said he expects enrollment in September to be between 8,300 and 8,400.

The first workshop for teachers will be Aug. 28-30.

The board also authorized all principals and supervisors to attend an administrative workshop conference on "New Media In Education" Aug. 17-21 at West Virginia University in Morgantown.

About 25 will attend the workshop sponsored by the State Department of Education, especially for Hancock County principals and supervisors.

In other business, the board accepted the resignation of Chester P. Grossi, teacher at Weir High School, and employed Sandra Sue Clark for girls physical education at Weir High, Thomas L. Salvetti, social studies at New Cumberland, and Richard B. Lightner, social studies at Cove Junior High School.

The board authorized Supt. Hall, secretary, to advertise for bids for coal, pupil insurance and school bus insurance. Bids will be opened Aug. 15.

The Board was unable to set levies for making appropriations in the annual budget. The budget will not be completed until $5,283,000 in bonds are sold.

The board recessed its budget plans last night, will meet again and recess Aug. 15, and then convene Aug. 21 to sell the bonds and set the budget immediately thereafter.

ate had overridden DiSalle on the bill.

Altogether, DiSalle vetoed 24 acts: 8 vetoes were overridden, 15 were sustained, and consideration of his massive 1,010-item veto of the entire second-year appropriations bill was postponed until Nov. 14.

One of the big snafus of the final legislative day was over a bill to create 11 new municipal courts and alter the jurisdictions of a couple dozen others. The measure finally got clearance as an emergency bill, which means the courts will be in business as soon as judges can be elected next November.

But an omnibus bill to provide additional common pleas court judges in Montgomery, Lake, Clermont, Lucas and Hamilton counties and an extra probate court judge in Franklin County fell by the wayside.

The municipal court bill provides new courts in Bowling Green, Chardon, Fremont, Girard, Mason, Maumee, Napoleon, Newton Falls, Oregon, Sylvania and Trotwood.

The house - approved measure, after a favorable report by the Senate Judiciary Committee, had languished for weeks until it was brought to a Senate vote Tuesday.

Then Senate Democrats, for no clearly stated reason, opposed the emergency clause to make the act effective immediately and permit election of judges in November. The bill, without the emergency clause however, passed the Senate handily.

The House expressed its indignation over the Senate's elimination of the emergency clause by voting almost unanimously to refuse to concur in the House amendments.

Refusal of the House to concur at 4 p.m. of the last day of the regular session created a difficult legislative situation. But it was unraveled by a conference committee of the two houses which acted even before it was possible to make an official selection of committee members.

The conference committee restored the emergency clause and struck out a couple of jurisdictional changes affecting the Dayton and Vandalia municipal courts — the matters behind the whole legislative hassle.

The Senate then passed the compromise 29-4 and the House followed suit quickly, 110-3 on the emergency clause and 107-8 on the bill itself.

Before winding up the regular session, the House completed action on a proposed constitutional amendment which would give the legislature the authority to determine which of the governor's appointments should be with the "advice and consent" of the Senate. The proposal will be on next November's statewide ballot.

Flight To Florida

Sadness And Fear Grip
Waiting Cuban Refugees

(AP news analyst William L. Ryan is just back from a short visit in Cuba and here reports on the problems of Cubans who seek to leave their homeland and find a new life in the United States.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

"Visit Cuba, land of happy people," says the lettering on cardboard boxes of rum offered for sale to travelers.

You smile bitterly. You are a traveler, a refugee from your own country. You are one of yet another 20,000 the United States has promised to absorb. Before the day is out you hope to escape, to join the many tens of thousands who already have left.

Your goal is close — so very close. But this will be the most anxious, the most tense day of all. You have with you all the worldly possessions you can carry on an airplane to Florida. All the rest is left behind.

For months you have undergone the mental strain of waiting — lines for visas, lines for exit permits, lines for plane tickets, lines for everything — Lines, inching ahead through the agonizing labyrinth of Fidel Castro's revolutionary bureaucracy. Now, at last you are at the airport. It will be the last day, if you are lucky. The last hours are the hardest of all.

You finally get to check your baggage. It is sent out to customs. There is nothing to do now but wait and wait. It gets hotter by the minute as the afternoon wears on and the passengers mill about the small waiting room. Once you are there you dare not leave. A window has been broken, and the room's air conditioning does no good.

You wait and wait and wait. Children are wailing, irritated by the heat and the long, exhausting vigil. It is 4 p.m. Anxious eyes scan the skies through the waiting room windows. The American plane hasn't appeared.

It wouldn't have mattered if it did show up on time. The customs people were a long way from finished. Then there were the interrogations by the G-2, Castro's intelligence people.

For many there would be intensive and often seemingly pointless questioning. There would be suspicion; the dread of being turned back, just at about the last moment. Some—a relatively few—know the bitterness already.

The intelligence men are in and out of the waiting room and all eyes follow them. One G-2 man makes a cruel joke. He taps two young girls on the shoulders and asks for their papers. They go pale. Then he laughs at his own joke and hands the papers back. But others are taken away. Few will know the bitterness of losing at the last minute.

The plane finally appears. There is excitement. Little girls hastily put on their hats; mothers make a last minute fuss over wailing infants.

The customs and G-2 people finally have finished. The plane is called. Passengers' names are called out for boarding, one at a time, 110 of them.

Finally you hear your name. Hastily you gather in your bit of hand luggage and head for the ramp. You get in your seat in the crowded tourist plane, and you wait again. It is hot. The plane has been in the blazing sun for hours.

Now all eyes are turned toward the crowds of Cubans lining the railings on the terminal roof, waving goodbye. There are no smiles. Only the tears of men, women and children. Many of those left behind weep. Now the plane is aloft, and the tension lifts. You can feel it.

Finally, the plane touches down in Miami. You join the others in a spontaneous outburst of applause. The steward, smiling, says "Welcome to the United States," and you and the others applaud wildly again. You go down the steps.

Next to you is a weary looking man, in tears. He releases his grip on the hands of a child and kneels on the concrete, crosses himself, and says a prayer.

Another holds a box of rum they sell travelers. On the box it says: "Visit Cuba, land of happy people."

And you remember the tears on the faces of those you left behind.

Event To Be Labor Day

Wellsville Jaycee Day's Program Planning Starts

Plans for the fourth annual Wellsville Jaycee Day in September were started at a committee meeting Tuesday night at the Jaycee Hall.

The event will be held on Labor Day, Sept. 4. Jaycee Day was originated four years ago to provide recreation and entertainment for the residents of the district so they would not have to travel on the crowded highways.

Dave Orr and Ralph Fusco have been named co-chairmen of this year's event.

One of the highlights will be the presentation of the Outstanding Citizen award, given to the person who has contributed unselfishly toward the betterment of the community. Supt. S. E. Daw was the recipient last year.

A beauty pageant will be held and a queen selected to reign as "Miss Wellsville Jaycee of 1962." She will be crowned by the 1961 queen, Miss Linden MacLean. Miss MacLean went on to win the Ohio Junior Miss contest and represented the state in a national contest at Mobile, Ala.

All members of the Jaycee local will attend church in a group, Sunday, Sept. 3.

The committee said a full day of activities is being planned. There will be a baby contest for children of various ages, an all-day picnic at Hammond Park with free ice cream and refreshments, and various games.

A parade will be held in the late afternoon. Invitations are being sent various units. All contestants in the beauty pageant will ride in convertibles.

A free dance will be held in the evening. The climax will be the crowning of the queen.

Dan MacLean is serving as parade marshal. Don Snediker is secretary and Jim Wilson, treasurer, of the committee.

Chairmen include Jon Kiggans, picnic; Tom Morris, dance; Jack Call, prizes; Ralph Fusco, beauty pageant; Jerome Sorge, refreshments; Bob Stoll, church, and Jack Lanam, publicity.

Club Hears UOVDC Aide

Regional Planning Urged To Bring In New Industry

Area communities must stop talking about regional planning and do something about it to spark an industrial comeback in the Ohio Valley, Walter Myers of Steubenville told the Rotary Club Tuesday.

The executive director of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council declared, "We can't sell to the outside until we do something inside," pointing to the task of developing the river communities to attract industry and improve its dipping economy.

Myers since 1954 has headed the UOVDC, an organization of civic leaders and businessmen from the six counties of Brooke and Hancock in West Virginia, and Belmont, Columbiana, Harrison and Jefferson in Ohio.

When he assumed the leadership of the UOVDC, there were only 3,000 such organizations across the country attempting to strengthen their regions through luring industry.

But now there are 14,000, Myers said, and many are "sophisticated, with plenty of leadership and money," he said in citing the competition that faces the Ohio Valley group.

Myers emphasized that regional planning is necessary, and that valley communities can't risk fighting between themselves as in the past.

"I can't see how we can wait much longer in Eastern Ohio for capital improvements, somebody has to get into long-range planning to make room for future growth and expansion," Myers asserted.

Attempting to attract industry to community sites is comparable to the problem of the merchant with a dozen suits for sale, in that "they look them over, but want the one you don't have," Myers said.

"But we can't wait until we have a prospect before we start becoming competitive," Myers declared, pointing out the importance of regional planning for the future.

Dropouts Face Constant Insecurity

Slightly more than half of all fifth - grade pupils finish high school. Fewer than two - thirds of those in the ninth grade remain through grade 12. So reports the National Education Association. One study reveals that 46 per cent of the dropouts had IQs below 90 as against 21 per cent of those who graduated; that 6 per cent of the dropouts had IQs over 110. As a rule, dropouts will be the last to find jobs and the first to be laid off. The unemployment rate for the dropouts is twice that for high school graduates.

Dr. Garry Meyers who graduated; that 6 per cent of the dropouts had IQs over 110. As a rule, dropouts will be the last to find jobs and the first to be laid off. The unemployment rate for the dropouts is twice that for high school graduates.

ACCORDING TO a report from the AFL-CIO:

"A boy who is good with his hands and not much interested in 'book learning' could in the past drop out of school and learn a trade. No longer. Not only are the skill requirements higher in themselves, but most companies will not touch a boy for skilled job training or an apprenticeship — whether on a formal or informal basis — without a high school diploma."

There are increased opportunities for highly skilled workers. For every 100 skilled workers the nation had in 1955, it will need 122 in 1965 and 145 in 1975. About 3,000,000 new young workers a year enter the labor force. With automation growing, more and more low - skilled jobs are erased and higher skills are required for the jobs which remain.

WHY CAN'T more of the unskilled work on farms, dig ditches or drive trucks? Need for farm workers is decreasing. Farmers, eventually, may make up only 4 per cent or 5 per cent of the labor force.

One national trucking company hires only high school graduates, and more will soon have like standards of education. The pick and shovel are as much outmoded as the cuspidor.

Most of the unemployed of the future are in our schools now.

Edgar Dale devotes his "The News Letter" of April, 1961, from Ohio State University, to "The Forgotten Third", most of whom do not graduate from high school. We might raise the question whether we should continue to change our junior or senior school programs in the hope that practically all youths may be able to graduate whether they can read or not.

EMPLOYERS AND labor organizations are in the habit of separating youths for employment into high school graduates and non-graduates.

Maybe we need a special school as part of the regular junior or senior high school plant, or with a separate building, known as a "Skill-School", in which many who now drop out could attain success at skills, with a special diploma from this skill-school.

In addition to the special skills, the student might also learn the basics of the three R's. Many parents might be able then to win their youths low in regular school achievement to continue until graduation from this kind of school; and employers might welcome these youths.

My bulletin "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School" may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Hanover Township Road Repair Aired

Hanover Township Board of Supervisors discussed road repairs at a meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Fred Martin, secretary-treasurer.

Martin reported that culvert arrived this morning to replace worn out pipe on Route 302 and Route 478 towards Murdocksville. He said about six-tenths of each road will receive traffic-bound slag.

Supervisors will inspect the roads Saturday. Next meeting will be Sept. 1.

Wellsville Approves Mutual Aid Plan Set In Fire Calls

A mutual aid contract between the Wellsville and East Liverpool fire departments was approved by Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

It will be signed by Safety-Servic Director William S. Robinson. The contract, the same as the old pact, is for three years.

It was sent to Council by Solicitor Joseph Cooper of East Liverpool. It calls for at least one truck and two men to be sent by either party in case of emergency—if they are available.

IN OTHER business, Council gave first reading to a resolution authorizing the street and light committee to act as an investigating group for obtaining information on the proposed relocation of Route 7 through the city.

It calls for the city to pay the committee's expenses and also authorizes the committee to check on obtaining federal aid for developing housing and extending the city limits.

The 3-3 tie vote was broken by Mrs. Mary Rahter, president. Councilmen Aguin Bowling, Robert Taggart and Donald Miller opposed the measure while Councilmen Clarence Cartwright, George Mackall and William Stroble favored it. Councilman Paul Nelson was absent.

One of the objections was that the city could not afford to pay the expenses and the three favoring the resolutions said they would pay their own costs.

A LETTER was received from a district sanitary engineer for the State Department of Health, warning that the city's dump off Route 39 is not being operated properly. It was suggested the dumping be moved to a shallower strip section and the present area completely covered and drained. The matter was referred to the refuse committee and Robinson for investigation.

Mayor William J. Shoub's report for July showed $1,297.90 collected in fines and fees.

Bowling said he had received complaints of youths diving into the Ohio River off the Pennsylvania Railroad trestle at the mouth of Little Yellow Creek. There is no ordinance against it, but he pointed out the hazard.

Mrs. Margaret Baldwin, clerk, was directed to write railroad officials, asking them to erect a tact the head of the CD program in Columbiana County and arrange for a meeting with Council. Shoub and Robinson to discuss the program.

Shoub suggested Floyd Hall, city director, also be invited.

Council also discussed installing street lights on 18th St. Heights. No action was taken. Miller said the city does not have the money while others said it would be a good investment, by helping the area to develop.

Council also discussed opening the streets in Arcadia Heights.

Stroble suggested a turn-around for cars be created on Highland Ave. Robinson was asked to investigate.

HE SAID THE H. K. Porter Co. plans to install a blinker light system on Route 45 near its new clay mine. Trucks pull on to the highway and create a traffic hazard, Stroble commented.

He said the city needs an easement to get to the standpipe on the hillside above Highland Ave.

Solicitor William Bush said the city has an easement but it is not clear just where it is. Council also discussed repairs to the standpipe.

The water and sewage committee will check.

Method Discovered To Warn Spacemen Of Sun Radiation

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer
BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP)—A University of California scientist today reported development of the first promising warning service against the worst radiation hazard to manned space flight.

Dr. Kinsey Anderson said a technique for spotting unusually large shadows around sunspots offers a means of forecasting likely periods when the sun would emit radioactive bullets that make the much-publicized Van Allen radiation belts "look simplified" as a hazard to spacemen.

He said methods have been worked out for predicting such outbursts with good to moderate accuracy four to seven days in advance. He added that this could well affect the timing of manned orbital shots around the earth and a circumnavigational trip around the moon which would precede an attempt to land men on the moon by 1970.

Anderson told about it in an interview after addressing a conference of space scientists jointly sponsored by Virginia Polytechnic Institute, the National Science Foundation and the Langley (Va.) Research Center of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Dr. Anderson said the civilian space agency had asked him to try to work out some means of "predicting times when solar flares might make cosmic rays," so that manned launchings could be timed to avoid them.

"Only about 20 per cent of the biggest flares produce cosmic rays," he said. "Big flares range from about 50 a year during the maximum period of sunspot activity every 11 years to none at all during years of minimum sunspot activity."

He said a given flare from the sun could generate many trillions of proton particles that could endanger men aboard an unshielded space ship.

Rockets designed for lofting a lunar landing expedition and for more advanced space shots, he said, would be hefty enough to allow proper shielding of the manned capsules.

Further Details Given Club On Housing Plans For Aged

A proposal for construction of a housing project for elderly persons was outlined further by William W. Harper, Chester teacher, at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at City Hall auditorium.

Harper also spoke on the proposal at the meeting last week. He said he would donate a 22-acre farm known as Salem Hill, located on Middle Run Rd. two miles from Chester, that was owned by his parents.

Harper said the project could be built entirely with federal money if a sponsor can be obtained. He said it would be a non-profit organization.

The government would take a 50-year mortgage on the project, necessitating a Board of Trustees from a reliable organization so the membership could be perpetuated.

He said his plan calls for construction of 32 individual housing units to accommodate approximately 100 persons. They would be rented at a low rate. A person would need about one and a half times the maximum amount paid by Social Security to reside at the site.

He asked that the club consider the proposal and offer its support. Last week he pointed out how the housing project could aid the community economically.

Russell Davis, president, conducted business and named a nominating committee to present a slate of officers by September.

Salem Area Autoist Held For Grand Jury

LISBON — Henry O. Poage, 53, of McConor's Trailer Court on Route 45, south of Salem, pleaded not guilty Tuesday to driving while intoxicated and was bound over to the September Grand Jury under $500 bond by Mayor Dean Stockman.

Poage was arrested Monday at 1:40 p. m. on the Public Square by Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan after a north end resident called the department and reported a drunken driver was headed south on N. Market St.

Poage was turned over to Chief Dalton Pike for prosecution because he was arrested within the village.

He was jailed in lieu of bond.

Ohio Seeks New Title

Futile Search Made After Child Screams

An extensive search of a hillside area between Irondale and Cream City was touched off early Tuesday afternoon when four passing motorists said they heard a child screaming for help. Nothing was found, however.

The search started about 1 p. m. when a motorist heard someone calling at Slim's Hill. Neighbors were notified and went to the area to begin a search. Meanwhile, three other passing motorists reported hearing the cries.

Jefferson County sheriff deputies checked both Irondale and Cream City but no one was reported missing. Many persons combed the hillside area just above Little Yellow Creek in the search, which ended about 6 p. m.

Thoughts On Retirement

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—There is a great industry being built up that says you can't be happy if you retire after 65.

There is a great industry being built up that says you can't be happy if you retire before you are 65.

There is a great industry being built up that says it isn't worthwhile to retire at all. It is better to go on as before.

Well, this just may or may not happen to be true.

So far as I know, there is no medical evidence that proves any human being who keeps his enthusiasm for living and new or old enjoyments dies younger by quitting a steady job at 55 rather than 65.

What is true is that in most circumstances no doctor can assay your endurance.

Unless you have a known terminal disease an honest physician would have to admit, as any honest physician did 3,000 years ago, that your longevity would have to be as much a mystery to you as his is to him.

It has been my observation that people who have performed an endeavor ably for a long period of time, if they weary of it, survive longer if they relinquish it rather than if they try to continue their clutch of it.

They must find a different reach. There comes a time when they must let go of what they have held, and grasp another thing.

Change is a tremendous medicine at any age.

There are those who say that age cannot stand a change of medicine or survive a new viewpoint.

My observation has been that the elderly can well sustain any change except a change of weight.

Those who retire early do not perish from nonperformance. Their appetite endures, they refresh themselves by new attempts.

Science has its purposes, but it also has its frustrations.

I recall the sad face of a pioneer doctor in the field of gerontology—the study of old age. He worried himself to death in his 60s. I must suppose, in an attempt to figure how people could live longer.

My mother, who got only through the third grade in Ireland before she came over here and bore five children, never had time to study gerontology. She'll be 74 this year.

"Sometimes I feel like I ought to let go, and give this old world a rest," she says placidly. She is 60-70 pounds above her arrival weight, and America has been for her just one child and a calorie after another.

All her five children—the silver cord remains untarnished and unbroken—deny her this choice. They all feel the need of her unity, now as when young.

"But sometimes I get so tired," mother says. "I'd like to retire. I'd just like to quit."

There are plenty of statistics to show—I hope—that men who retire younger live longer than those who don't. It's good for them.

But not for mothers. Mothers can't retire. They can't quit, can they? A mother's best pension is the reward of the need of her eternal presentment.

Comic Firemen To Enter Parade

The Glenmoor firemen's comedy team will compete in the parade Aug. 11 at 8 p. m. at Youngstown during the Ohio State Firemen's convention, Harry Reckner, team member said.

He said a letter informing firemen of the convention said the parade will be one of the largest in the state. Over 300 units are expected, Reckner was told.

He said the Glenmoor team has lost only once this year in parade competition. The team won first in the comedy division of the Chester volunteer firemen's parade Saturday.

Cleveland Escapes Death When Slab Fall

CLEVELAND (AP) — Richard Irwin, 30, a construction foreman, was watching a sewer excavation Tuesday for the central interchange of the Innerbelt Freeway when the ground gave way beneath him. He fell into the 15-foot excavation, and a one-ton slab of concrete fell on top of him.

The weight of the concrete pressed him into soft sand. Other workers who pulled him out said the sand absorbed the shock and saved Irwin from any broken bones. He was in good condition at St. Vincent Charity Hospital.

Agricultural Council Will Meet Thursday

LISBON — The Columbiana County Agricultural Council will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the Soil Conservation office to plan various activities in public affairs, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent in agriculture.

A public meeting to discuss a planning commission and rural-urban meetings at Salem and East Liverpool will be aired. Herman L. Reuter of Lisbon, chairman, will preside.

Officers Search For Second Man In Store Slaying

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — Authorities filed murder and armed robbery charges Tuesday against a second man—not in custody—in connection with a holdup in which a supermarket co-manager was slain.

Ohio County Prosecutor Thomas P. O'Brien said a warrant was issued against Patrick L. Muldrew Jr., 27, of Tiltonsville, Ohio. Muldrew is believed to be in the Cleveland area.

O'Brien said charges against Muldrew are based on information given authorities by Robert C. Satterfield of Benwood.

Satterfield, 25, is awaiting preliminary hearing Wednesday on charges of murder and armed robbery in the Saturday holdup of an A & P store in suburban Elm Grove.

Robert Nelson, 30, was fatally shot as he chased the fleeing gunman.

Asst. Prosecutor Thomas Goodwin said Satterfield gave him this account:

He and Muldrew planned the robbery two weeks in advance. Saturday, Muldrew drove Satterfield to the store, and was supposed to park nearby and wait. But Muldrew apparently drove off after hearing gunfire.

Former District Man Gets Post With Navy

Dale Hardy of San Diego, son of Harold C. Hardy of East Liverpool R. D. 2, has accepted a post as staff assistant to the admiral in the Bureau of Weapons in San Diego.

A former resident of Chester and graduate of Chester High School in 1950, Hardy is an aeronautical engineer and until recently was with the federal government at Edwards Air Base in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy have two daughters and reside in San Diego.

CLEVELAND ESCAPES DEATH WHEN SLAB FALL

CLEVELAND (AP) — Richard Irwin, 30, a construction foreman, was watching a sewer excavation Tuesday for the central interchange of the Innerbelt Freeway when the ground gave way beneath him. He fell into the 15-foot excavation, and a one-ton slab of concrete fell on top of him.

Victims Of Disease

Death Creeps Toward 3 Youngsters In Dakota

By BURT FOGELBURG
Rapid City Journal Staff Writer
HERMOSA, S. D. (AP)—Lyla and Cliff Jenney watch three of their five attractive children die a little each day but they can't believe it's so.

Tammy Kay, 3; Timothy Lee, 14 months, and Teddy James, 2 months, all have cystic fibrosis, one of the world's most relentless killers of children and a disease for which there is no known cure.

Mrs. Jenny, 24, confesses: "You just have to live with it. Your only hope is that they will find a cure."

Cystic fibrosis is a disease which leads to long months or years of disabling lung infection. It slowly suffocates a child in a sea of thickening lung secretions.

Twyla Rae, 4, and Terrence, 2, apparently have escaped the disease which was first detected in Tammy a year ago.

Cystic fibrosis can only be slowed, not stopped. There is only temporary relief by employing nourishing, healing foods combined with medication and equipment in skilled, professional hands.

Doctors in Minneapolis told the couple there is no history of a person living past 25 with cystic fibrosis.

Their physician in Rapid City has predicted Tammy will be lucky to get through grade school and Timmy has a chance of making it through high school. More tests are needed to determine the severity in the baby.

Also termed fibrocystic disease of the pancreas or mucoviscidosis, cystic fibrosis is found once in every 600 to 1,000 births.

Japanese Leftists Ask Link With Red China

TOKYO (AP) — Sohyo, Japan's leftist dominated, 3.8-million-member general council of trade unions, opened a five-day convention today and adopted a resolution calling for diplomatic relations between Communist China and Japan.

The 650 delegates from 59 unions attending also approved resolutions calling for wage increases, a minimum wage system and shorter working hours.

Crash Victim Claimed

CINCINNATI (AP) — Injuries suffered in a three-car collision Sunday proved fatal Tuesday night to Angelo Sexton, 50, Cincinnati.

For Capturing Strays

Dogs Due Tranquilizer

That gun Dog Warden Robert J. Croyle is holding looks like a deadly weapon, but actually it's a stray's best friend because it allows animals to be captured unharmed.

The gun, powered by cylinders of compressed carbon dioxide, fires a hollow dart containing a tranquilizer. Within moments, the most obstreperous animal is docile as a lamb, but he's unharmed when the effects of the tranquilizer wear off.

The warden obtained the gun to make it possible for him to capture dogs without injury to himself or the animals. It's accurate up to 40 yards.

The gun cost $147 and the balance of the equipment, including a supply of hollow darts, tranquilizer fluid and other items, pushed the total to $206. It was purchased through the Palmer Chemical & Equipment Co., Inc., of Atlanta, Ga.

In the photo above, Croyle demonstrates how one of the tranquilizer - loaded darts - is loaded into the chamber of the gun.

An ingenious device built into the dart injects the fluid into the animal at the instant of impact. At the tip of the dart is a hollow needle about an inch long.

Mechanism to inject the fluid is built into the dart. The force of the dart striking the animal drives a tiny firing pin against a copper cylinder about the size of a .22-caliber rifle shell, which contains a small powder charge. As the powder charge explodes, it drives forward a rubber plunger which pushes the fluid out of the hollow dart, through the needle and into the animal's body. Then the dart drops away to be reloaded and used again.

The tranquilizer is a nicotine alkaloid solution. It comes in varying strengths according to the size of the animal upon which it will be used. The normal charge for the dart is one cubic centimeter. The equipment includes a hypodermic syringe for reloading darts.

The gun has the feel and feel of a .22-caliber target rifle, but the business end of the barrel has the dimensions of a .30-caliber machine gun or a large bore shotgun to accommodate the dart's bulk.

Two carbon dioxide cylinders that supply the power are carried in the forestock. They supply enough energy for about 30 shots. The gun has open sights, but Croyle said it has proven accurate.

Croyle pointed out the gun also can be used to inject medication into wild animals or unruly large domestic animals such as bulls and stallions. The dart will handle many types of medication in addition to the tranquilizer, he said.

Croyle said he is willing to take the "sleepy gun" to anywhere in the East Liverpool area to help capture or treat an animal that cannot be approached safely. He said the gun has the endorsement of humane societies throughout the nation and is used by many zoos, ranches and wild animal dealers to administer medication or tranquilizers.

He has used the gun experimentally so far in capturing two dogs. In both cases, the gun proved accurate and the dogs were captured readily, although the doses were smaller than normal, Croyle said.

The warden said the tranquilizer will put an animal to sleep 15 to 20 seconds after he's struck by the dart, but it will return to normal within 20 to 30 minutes - long enough to transport it to the pound or a cage.

Calls Plague Draft Boards

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "It seems a pity that it takes a period of national emergency to awaken our young men to their responsibilities under the selective service law," Ohio's harried selective service director said Tuesday.

Col. Raymond E. Clouse said that local boards have reported an increase of 400 per cent in the number of registrants calling for information. The deluge of questions has had its good features, he quickly added.

"We are gratified that the number of important changes in status being reported by Ohio registrants will assure that our records will be more current than has been the case in the recent past."

"Reporting changes of address, family status, critical occupation or reserve affiliation will help many of our registrants avoid inconvenience and embarrassment in these days of heavy physical examination calls."

However, Col. Clouse had one bit of advice:

Write — don't telephone your draft board if you want to know your draft status.

He pointed out that only men born on or after Aug. 30, 1922, need concern themselves at this time. Any men born before that date are not affected by the present selective service law.

Six categories of 1-A's were listed, to be selected for induction in this order: (1) delinquents (2) volunteers (3) non - fathers from age 19 to 26, oldest first; (4) fathers 19 to 26; (5) over age 26 whose liability was extended because of deferment (6) under 19.

Other classifications which now exist are 1-C (in service); 1-D (reserve status); 1-S (temporary student deferment); 2-A (occupational deferment); 2-C (farm deferment); 2-S (student deferment); 3-A (dependency); 4-A (veteran or sole surviving son); 4-B (public official); 4-C (alien); 4-D (ministers or ministerial students); 4-F (physically, mentally or morally unfit); 5-A (overage).

Cholera Claims Many In Kwangtung Areas

HONG KONG (AP) — An outbreak of cholera in Toishan, Kwangtung province, hometown of many overseas Chinese in the United States and southeast Asia, was reported today by the newspaper Wah Kiu Man Po.

Quoting an arrival from Red China, the paper said the Communists have cordoned the area to prevent the epidemic spreading.

The report said that due to a shortage of medicines, "numerous persons" have died.

Jailed Driver Freed To Obtain Treatment

A Wellsville man, fined and jailed Tuesday morning for driving while under the influence of alcohol, was released from Wellsville jail last night for treatment at City Hospital for arm injuries suffered in an auto accident.

William Headley of Russell Heights was arrested yesterday at 2:35 a. m. after his car rammed a utility pole on Springhill Rd.

He was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail at a hearing yesterday morning before Mayor William J. Shoub.

Headley later complained of his arm hurting and was released on his own recognizance for treatment of a possible fracture. He is scheduled to return to the hospital again this morning for further X-rays, police said.

He will be put back in jail after treatment is completed, officers said.

Cat Hops Car Springs In 40-Mile Journey

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Lowell Eberly left home at Knoxville early one morning to drive to work in Des Moines. When he got out of his car he heard a "Meow."

Out from under his car came the family cat, wet and muddy. It had made the 40-mile trip on the back springs, apparently unharmed.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our 5-year-old son plays with a child in this block who is 7 years old and somewhat retarded. The little boy is gentle and pleasant but he speaks like a 3-year-old and is slow in his reflexes.

My husband says we should not allow our son to play with this child because he will pick up slovenly speech habits and it may slow up his development.

I feel very sorry for this retarded youngster and I can't bring myself to keep our child away from him. He seems to understand this unfortunate lad better than the other children.

My husband says we owe it to our son to do what is best for him. Thanks for any help you can offer.—L.L.D.

Dear L.L.D.: If the retarded child is not violent or destructive your youngster will lose nothing from the association—he will gain from it.

Children should learn to get along with all types of people. It helps them to make a better adjustment and it gives them a truer picture of what the world is like.

Playing with children who are different is healthy. In fact, the greater the variety of playmates, the better. A youngster who learns compassion and patience at the age of 5 is richly endowed for life.

No Recommendation

Dear Ann: Why are you so suborn about letting people meet through your column? I could have made a go of it with any of the three men I wrote to you about—especially that man who signed himself Cal.

Now there was a man I could go for. He wanted a respectable, affectionate, church-going woman. Well, that's me. Since I have no church at the moment, I'd be willing to go to the church of his choice.

I've been married twice to men who didn't appreciate me and once to a man I didn't appreciate, so I know the score.

I've done my share of playing the field and now I'm ready to put all my eggs in one basket. How about Cal's address?—THROUGH RUNNING.

Dear Running: Please take one of those eggs, put it in your shoe and beat it.

Strangers can be dangerous and I want no part of matchmaking or friend finding. This column never puts one reader in touch with another for any reason whatever.

You're a three-time loser and now you're ready to settle down. Well—now that's what I call a beautiful recommendation.

Big For Age 11

Dear Ann: I am 11 years old. I think—but I am not sure, which is what I am writing to you about. My parents say I am 11 but I am bigger than most kids my age and I have the feeling I wonder if maybe I wasn't born a year or two before they were married.

I told my mother about my suspicion and asked to see my birth certificate. She acted highly insulted and refused to show it to me. Don't you think parents owe their kids proof of when they were born if they ask for it?—IN DOUBT.

Dear Doubt: Parents owe their children food, clothing, shelter, love and guidance. If you're short on any of these let me know.

Some kids shoot up faster than others, which is probably why you are bigger than your 11-year-old friends. Now get those silly ideas out of your head.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Stuebenville Judge Fined In Patrol Case

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio — Jefferson County Judge Charles B. McCann, 50, was fined $10 and costs Monday in his own court at Richmond on a charge of being drunk and disorderly last month. The judge pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) to the accusation brought by the State Highway Patrol, which said the incident happened at the patrol barracks at Wintersville June 13.

The fine was assessed by County Judge Helen M. Huntsman of Toronto, who was assigned to conduct the hearing.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Bigger The Insults, Funnier The Comics

Hal Humphrey is on vacation. Today's column is written by Eddie Cantor, who should need no introduction.

By EDDIE CANTOR

What can we expect next season on television? Despite the hue and cry from the FCC and unofficial groups, there will be more V.S. (violence-sex) and M.A.B.I. (more and bigger insults).

Not too many years ago, insults led to duels which cut short the life of the participant. Now Hal Humphrey adds, insults prolong the life of a comedian. They provide material for hundreds of columnists. They are highlighted in the biographies of famous people. Insults form the very backbone of truly great humor.

The reason is simple. The ordinary joke is thin and forgotten 10 minutes after delivery. The insult is repeated until it becomes a classic. Nobody ever gave a hoot why a chicken crossed the road. Nor did audiences become convulsed at the snappy comeback that the fireman "wore red suspenders to keep his pants up."

THE ONLY JOKE in this Joe Miller classification that lasted long was: "That was no lady—that was my wife." This was the first of the modern "insult" gags which were repeated with variations, and without, until virtually yesterday.

The comics, however, did not devise the insult as a form of comedy. There were a lot of smart fellows around before their time.

How many classic stories can you think of that weren't insults? I don't know who it is who determines which shall become a classic, but I do know I have my own "Hit Parade of Insult Classics."

Oscar Wilde's insult at Niagara Falls is my favorite. He said, "Every American bride is taken there, and the sight of this gigantic waterfall must be the earliest, if not the keenest, disappointment in American married life."

WHEN JAMES McNeill Whistler got off a particularly good bon mot, Oscar Wilde turned to the great painter and said, "I wish I had said that."

"Don't worry, Oscar," answered Whistler, "you will."

I remember being in the Brown Derby with W. C. Fields and Wilson Mizner one night when an unpopular actor walked over to our table. Mizner took a fast squint at him, turned to Fields and said, "Gangrene has just set in."

I think I could relate a hundred Dorothy Parker stories—as who couldn't? But the one I like best concerns her visit to the country estate of some friends for the weekend. It was so boring to her that she almost immediately sent the following telegram to a friend: "Please send me a loaf of bread—and enclose a saw and file!"

WHEN Walter Winchell was barred from the Shubert openings, he said he would "wait a few nights and go to their closings."

Recently at a night club he was asked if he had seen Jack Paar. "No," answered Walter, "but you'll recognize him immediately. He usually sits with his back to the check."

A young author wrote a note to a publisher asking him to read a manuscript and comment on it. The publisher replied three days later: "My dear sir: I have just finished your manuscript. My dear sir!"

A half hour of nothing but insults came from the lips of Jackie Gleason a week after his weak quiz show laid an ostrich-size egg. It was a hilarious 30 minutes, and Jackie himself was the butt of his own concocted insults.

The greatest insult, which did not elicit any laughter, came from the people who canceled the Barbara Stanwyck show a few weeks before she received an Emmy for being the best TV actress of the year.

Head Of Order Dies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mother M. Aloysie, O. P., 72, mother general of the Dominican Order, died Monday. She had been ill since suffering a heart attack last November. She was born in Columbus.

Grain Insect Cause Cited

LISBON — Most insect infestations in stored grain begin in the bin due to contact with insect-contaminated grain, feed, or grain debris from previous crops, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

If farmers will remove sources of infestation before they harvest the new crop, they can greatly reduce the chances of new grain being infested, says B. D. Blair, Ohio State University extension entomologist.

Blair lists four steps that help prevent infestations:

Clean-up — Before grain is stored, Storage areas should be cleaned of all old grain, dust and debris. Infested grain may be found in truck and wagon beds, machinery used in seeding and combining, feed storage areas or empty feed sacks. All debris collected during the cleanup should be burned.

Spray bins — Walls, ceilings and floors of bins should be sprayed to the point of run-off. Use one pound 50 per cent wettable powder Methoxychlor in 2½ gallons of water, or one pint 57 per cent emulsion concentrate Malathion in 3 gallons of water. Do not use storage areas until the spray materials have dried.

Store dry grain — Grain should not be stored if moisture content is above 14 per cent. Mites and insects develop rapidly in high moisture grain.

Use protectants — the use of protectants mixed with grain will prevent infestation for a storage season. A protectant should not be substituted for cleanup and bin spraying, but used as an additional preventive measure. Malathion, or Pyrethrum — Synergist protectants may be spread over the grain on the wagon before it is unloaded, or metered onto the grain as it is being augered or elevated into bins, Myers said.

Adm. Rickover Rests After Coronary Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, the atomic submarine pioneer, is in a hospital after what the Navy describes as a mild heart attack.

In answer to questions, the Navy said today that the heart attack occurred last Tuesday.

"He is now sitting up and his condition is considered excellent," the Navy said, adding that no surgery was performed.

Rickover is a patient at the Navy hospital in nearby Bethesda, Md.

The 61-year-old Rickover, a small and driving bundle of energy, has taken virtually no vacations during the decade he has devoted to pushing the adoption of a nuclear submarine program and overseeing developments of the atomic powered plants which have gone into submarines, carrier, destroyer and cruiser type ships.

College Seeks Dorm

WEST LIBERTY, W. Va. (AP)—West Liberty State College has handed the Legislature's Subcommittee on Higher Education a request for a $500,000 appropriation for a new men's dormitory to house 250 men students. President Paul N. Elbin called the dormitory the college's No. 1 current building need.

Baby's Body Found

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—The body of a 4 or 5-day-old boy was found Tuesday in an abandoned farm house about four miles west of here. Sheriff Earl Rife said the baby apparently was alive when he was left under a stairwell two or three days ago.

Patrol Charges 2 After Mishaps

Two motorists were cited for traffic violations following separate accidents Tuesday, according to the Lisbon State Highway Patrol.

A car driven by Robert L. Mumpire, 16, of Salem went off a curve, crossed back over the highway and hit an embankment before overturning on Township Road 853 a mile east of Route 14 in the Salem area yesterday at 9:30 a. m., officers said.

John A. McCoy of Salem, a passenger, suffered a laceration of the right elbow. Mumpire was cited to Juvenile Court, officers said.

A tractor rig driven by Paul E. Martin, 38, of Homeworth hit the rear of another tractor driven by Ordell W. Rodney, 37, of Benton Harbor, Mich., Tuesday at 6:45 p. m. on Route 14 two and a half miles east of Route 7. Martin was cited for failure to halt in the assured clear distance.

Fewer Seen Unemployed

After dipping to the year's low in June, unemployment claims in East Liverpool in July continued to decline even further, the Ohio State Employment Service office said today.

Harry L. Dinsmore, manager, said the office processed a total of 3,336 claims for the month—444 less than in June.

The total claims included 2,566 filed under the regular program and 770 under the federal extension plan.

New claims totaled 430, down 94 from the June total of 524. Of the extended claims, there were 66 new and 704 continued.

The office reported 1,267 seeking work in July, compared to the 1,367 of June. The office placed 60 in jobs in July, one less than in June.

Dinsmore said the office paid out in benefit payments $103,229 in June. Payments for the first six months of the year were $615,878.

This includes the regular claims, $76,809 for June and $26,420 in extended benefits for the month.

The office has paid $562,767 in regular claims from January through June, and $53,111 in extended benefits for April-June.

Geography Rules Berlin

(A wandering line that even splits houses in two is the porous Iron Curtain that separates East from West in the crisis city of Berlin. In this second of a series of articles, AP correspondent Carl Hartman explains the geography of the situation and how it adds to the crisis.)

By CARL HARTMAN
BERLIN (AP)—Try to imagine the city of Washington split in two, with the Capitol in Communist hands and the White House held by the West.
Now try to imagine all the surrounding states east of the Mississippi River also under a Communist satellite government, but with the West still free. Temporary national capital — Columbia, Mo.

If you can get a situation like that clearly in mind, you've come a long way toward understanding what the situation in Berlin looks like on the ground.

Greater Berlin is actually a good deal bigger than Washington—it includes about five times the area and population of the District of Columbia.

The city is split, not by anything so straight as Pennsylvania Avenue, but by a border that meanders some 25 miles through the middle of town, roughly from northwest to southwest. In some places it goes right down the center of once-busy streets. Elsewhere it leaves sidewalks on one side of the line and house doors on the other. There are a few places where it actually splits houses in half.

One of the oddest things about Berlin's little Iron Curtain is that it is so porous. Anyone can go back and forth by foot, car, subway or elevated train. Citizens of West Germany are supposed to get a special pass, but this is quickly given and Communist police rarely ask to see it.

It's a very different story if you try to leave Berlin and visit the surrounding German countryside. For this, special permission is required by the East German Communist authorities, and it is not so easy to get. That Iron Curtain is not so porous.

In a crisis, the Communists might seal off East Berlin from West Berlin, almost as effectively as they have sealed off Berlin from the rest of Germany. It is their legal right to stay in Berlin and have access to it that the Western powers have chosen to defend.

"How did Berlin get into this odd fix?
In 1944, when the allies of World War II were advancing toward Germany's borders, they got together in London and decided how they were going to rule the country when they reached it. They divided Germany into occupation zones.

Berlin was to be in the middle of the Soviet occupation zone. But since the allies were to rule the country jointly they devised a special setup for the capital. Each occupying power got an occupation sector within the city itself, but all were to work together. This scheme broke down in the conflicts among the allies after war ended.

West Germany — the British,

French and American occupation zones—became the Federal Republic of Germany with its capital at Bonn, a little university town on the Rhine. Western troops stayed on as allies.

East Germany—the Soviet occupation zone—became the "German Democratic Republic," with its capital in East Berlin. The Soviets also continued to maintain their troops.

The Federal Republic and its allies refused to have anything to do with the Soviet satellite, officially. The rest of the world, except for the Communist bloc, followed suit. Nevertheless, East German Communist officials took over more and more authority. They came to control all land and water routes to West Berlin, so far as German traffic was concerned.

The air lanes were all that remained in allied hands. Only small amounts of Western road and rail traffic, most of its military, continued to be checked through to Berlin by the Russians. Even official American trains were drawn by East German locomotives.

But when an official U.S. car drew up to the Iron Curtain border station at Helmstedt, on its way to Berlin, there was still a Soviet soldier on hand — not an East German — to check its papers. That Soviet soldier symbolized Moscow's acceptance of Western rights in Berlin. When he waved the car on to the highway, he was saying in effect: "Go ahead — Moscow is standing by your right to go to Berlin."

The disappearance of this vestige of four-power rule is threatened by the Soviet promise to sign a peace treaty with its East German satellite before end of 1961. Such a treaty would withdraw the Soviet soldiers at Helmstedt and put an East German in their places, representing a government the United States doesn't recognize.

Would Washington let the driver of the official American car show his papers to the East German? Would the East German shoot if he didn't? Would the American shoot back?

Soviet officers might also be withdrawn from the Air Safety Center. The East Germans already have published a decree calling on all planes entering their territory to report to another center run by themselves. Would they fire on a Western plane if it refused?

Cigarette Machine Stolen At Wellsville

An industrious thief stole a cigarette machine from a Wellsville business establishment sometime early Tuesday morning.

John McGarey, 247 Highland Ave., reported to police yesterday that a thief took the vending machine from the Taste Freez he operates on Wells Ave.

The machine was on the outside of the building and was not fastened down, police said. The theft occurred sometime between 12:30 and 8 a. m.

35 Will Vie In Lions Net Tournery Opening Friday

Eight players have been seeded and an outstanding group of college tennis stars were among the late entries as the East Liverpool Lions Club gets set to "serve up" its second annual tennis tournament at two sites Friday.

The field of 35 netters ranks as one of the strongest assembled for an amateur tournament in the district.

Laurin Stacey, Lions Club chairman, announced that 13 first-round matches Friday will be held at two sites. Six matches are set for the two courts at Thompson Park, while seven will be held at the Volney Rodgers Field in Youngstown's Mill Creek Park.

Stacey explained the reason for going to Youngstown is that the field is larger than was expected. If all the matches were played in East Liverpool, it would require two weekends to complete the tournament.

Amedeo Dinardo of Sharon is the No. 1 seeded player. Dinardo won the singles championship at East Liverpool last year.

Second seeded is John Garver of Youngstown, winner of the East Palestine singles tournament. Joe Brown, the No. 2 ranked player in Pittsburgh, is seeded third, with Jollis (Chic) Welcher of Youngstown fourth.

8 Players Seeded; Opening Round Pairings Set

Ed Dupuy of Youngstown is seeded fifth, with Harold Mathison of Koppel sixth. Dave Laughlin, a member of the Pitt tennis team, was given the seventh spot, while Dave Hunter of Salem and William & Mary College was nominated eighth.

Brown, Laughlin and Ralph Mason Jr. are the top three players for Pitt. While Brown is ranked high in the city of Pittsburgh, he was runner-up in the West Penn Tournament in Pittsburgh earlier this summer.

Among the other late entries were several top-ranked tennis players in Ohio. They included Glen Barker and Leon Yarnelli of New Philadelphia.

Barker is rated ninth in the official Northeastern Ohio rankings for 1960, while Bob Thompson is rated sixth and John Garver is 10th. Thompson will be entered in the doubles only.

Double matches will be played Saturday afternoon and times for remaining matches will be announced later this week.

Surging Orioles, Giants Reopen Bids

Tribe, Chisox Battling For 1st Division

CLEVELAND (AP)—It won't be a battle for the pennant, but the three-game series starting tonight between the Cleveland Indians and the Chicago White Sox could mean the difference between sharing or not sharing in the World Series profits.

The fifth-place Sox, four games behind Cleveland, could feather its nest by sweeping the series. The fourth place team gets in on the series money.

Cleveland, having come off a road trip which saw them falling farther off the pace of the leaders, will be trying to gain an edge on Chicago for the season. Chicago has won five of the nine games it has played against the Indians.

Jim Perry (8-8) and Jim Grant (9-5) will hurl in tonight's two-night doubleheader against Ray Herbert (7-9) and former Indian Cal McLish (6-10). If Grant should win tonight, it would be his 10th victory, equalling his personal high for a season in the majors.

All-Stars Given Chance, But Eagles Favored By 2

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN Associated Press Sports Writer CHICAGO (AP)—The College All-Stars, praised as the finest group assembled in at least 11 years, may have an exceedingly good chance to knock off the Philadelphia Eagles Friday night in Soldier Field.

The oddsmakers, however, have rated the National Football League champions two-touchdown favorites. It's hard to go against the pros, who have won 17 of the 27 games played in the series. There have been two ties.

But it's no secret the Eagles have a quarterback problem without Norm Van Brocklin, who led them to the NFL crown. This, parlayed with what appears to be an exceptional college squad, heightens the chances of head coach Otto Graham's collection of graduated campus heroes.

Party's Over, Majors Get Down To Business

By MURRAY ROSE Associated Press Sports Writer With the two-day All-Star game break out of the way, the surging Baltimore Orioles and San Francisco Giants reopen their bids today to make three-way battles of the major league races.

The Orioles, who swept three out of four from the Yanks before the All-Star halt and seven of their last eight, are 8½ games back of the American league-leading New Yorkers and seven behind the second-place Detroit Tigers.

The Giants, third in the National League and eight games back of the leading Dodgers, take the direct and more dangerous route. They face the Dodgers—the hot-test club in the majors with eight straight victories—tonight at Los Angeles in the first game of a two-day series. The Giants have won five of their last seven.

To make it even tougher for the Giants they run into Johnny Podres (13-2) in the opener. The stocky southpaw has won five straight. He will be opposed by right-hander Juan Marichal (7-7).

While the coast clubs are battling away, the Cincinnati Reds entertain their favorite pigeons. They meet the Philadelphia Phillies in a three-game set, starting with a doubleheader tonight. The Reds are 12-0 over the Phillies and thanks to the forlorn cellar-dwellers are only a half game back of the Dodgers.

The Reds will send Jim O'Toole (10-8) and Joey Jay (14-6) against Philadelphia's Don Ferrarese (2-7) and Johnny Buzhardt (3-10).

In the other National League games Milwaukee pits Bob Buhl (8-8) and Bobby Hendley (3-3) against the Cubs' Glen Hobbie (7-11) and Jack Curtis (7-5) in a day doubleheader at Chicago and Pittsburgh matches Bob Friend (10-13) against the Cards' Larry Detroit is at home against Washington. Don Mossi (10-2) and Phil Regan (9-6) oppose the Senators' Joe McClain (7-11) and Marty Kutyna (6-2).

Players Favor 2 Games, It's Up To Owners Now

BOSTON (AP)—The fate of two All-Star baseball games per season is in the laps of the owners. The players have come out solidly for continuation.

The major league player representatives Tuesday agreed to ask Commissioner Ford Frick to appoint a player-owner committee to explore the pros and cons of continuing the two-game system inaugurated in 1959.

Pitcher Bob Friend of the Pittsburgh Pirates, National League player representative, said the players want two games. He said he hoped that within two weeks a committee meeting with the owners can be arranged though a final decision is not expected prior to the December major league meetings at Miami Beach.

The other major action of the player group following the second All-Star game here was the drafting of a letter to each club owner requesting all possible action to alleviate any racial discrimination in housing during spring training, especially on Florida's West Coast.

The players' legal counsel, Judge Robert Cannon, said that he and Frank Scott, the players' agent, had talked with Frick and the two league presidents.

"As of this moment, we are satisfied baseball has done everything humanly possible to alleviate conditions, particularly on the West Coast of Florida, relative to housing all players, colored and white under the same roof," Cannon said.

The All-Stars will limber up under the lights of Soldier Field tonight to get acquainted with its vastness. A crowd of 65,000 or more is expected for the game, which will be televised by ABC starting at 10 p.m. EDT.

Fred S. Schaser of Vinelands, N. J., tied for second at 887.

By R. L. LIDE
Like turtle soup? In case you do, it does not take too much effort to get the turtles.

Dick Gednetz and Lloyd Oswalt of Knox Township and Olan Streeter of Alliance set some turtle lines baited with beef in a farm pond.

Saturday night they caught 8 turtles which weighed 76 pounds. So it looks as if all you have to do is get permission from the pond owner and help yourself.

Bass fishing is holding up good at Lake Guilford. Bill Musner of Cumberland, Md. landed a 6½-pound bass, while Mrs. Walter McClelland of Pittsburgh took 2 bass, 6½ and 5 pounds, and Mrs. Lee Plumeret, also of Pittsburgh, netted a 6-pound bass. Many other bass in the 12-to-14-inch class were taken, some on night crawlers and others with artificial lures. This was done shore fishing.

AS FOR THE swimmers taking to the beach at Guilford, the official record shows 59,675 visitors for the month of July.

I estimated more than a thousand in swimming and sun bathing last Sunday. Not only that but since 3½-power motors are allowed on the lake, most of the boaters were taking a little ride, although some of them used the motors to get to their favorite fishing spots. Very few complaints have been received by the park patrolmen about motorboats, and all were of a minor nature.

I don't think sweet corn ever tasted any better than the fresh crop on the markets now. I would buy the first couple of dozen ears regardless of the price.

Even so, I wish I knew someone who grew the old original Golden Bantam and Country Gentlemen before this big ear improved sweet corn was introduced. I asked one grower why it was that the two named brands disappeared from the market? He said people won't buy those little ears anymore. I think I understand that. The present generation doesn't know about sweet corn. They get more cob than they do corn.

A LITTLE GIRL in Salem picked up a crippled baby robin and took it home with her. Her mother took it to two doctors to get the leg set, but it seems that nothing could be done except let nature take its course. They had it eating and on the road to recovery and the leg has healed. It was then brought to me to take care of.

Besides the robin, they furnished a cage, a new roll of pink kitchen towels, some wheat germ oil, 3 boiled eggs, a box of gravel and a box of worms. The little girl said it must be fed 6 times a day.

The robin is getting along fine, but its beak is still soft. Should be ready to release in about two weeks.

I heard someone say that worms should be killed before feeding them to birds or the bird will die, so I mash the worms head before it is fed. There must be something to it as this robin picks and tosses the worm all over the cage before he will down it.

Evidently, they kill the worms before they eat them. Please, don't bring me any more song birds. Let nature take its course. I haven't time to fool with them.

Woodbine Cops Pony Title

Woodbine is the city Pony League champion for 1961 after nipping Litten's, in a brilliant struggle, 6-5, Tuesday at Dopler Field.

It gave Woodbine its second victory in the best two-out-of-three playoff series. Monday's game ended in a 7-7 tie and was called due to darkness.

Dennis Horger's pitching and hitting was the spark that ignited Woodbine's drive to the pennant. Horger drove in three runs with a home run and single. On the mound he struck out 12 batters, walked three and gave up nine hits.

Teammate Dave Chetwynd also came through with an important home run blast, added a single and drove in two runs.

Woodbine took a 5-0 lead after the first three innings of play but Litten's bounced back for three runs and it was Woodbine on top, 5-3 going into the final inning.

Woodbine scored one run in the top of the seventh, which later proved to be the winning marker. Litten's tallied two runs in the last of the seventh on Skip Myer's two-run homer but the rally fell short.

Catcher Dave Cashdollar of Litten's led all hitters with three safeties in four trips to the plate and one went for a home run. He also had three RBI's to his credit.

Veteran Glass Rallies To Tie Playoff Series

The playoff for the city's Little League championship will go the limit now after Veteran's Plate Glass, the American Division champs, came from behind to defeat Burbick's, 5-3, Tuesday at Hilbert Field.

The third and final game to decide the title will be played Thursday at Hilbert Field beginning at 6 p. m.

Vet Glass opened Tuesday's game with two runs in the first inning but Burbick's came right back in its half of the inning to knot the count at 2-2.

Emory Brewer, who was the hitting star of the game but in a losing cause, hit his first of two home runs for the night in the first inning with a lead off blast over the left field fence.

Brewer, then put Burbick's in front 3-2 in the third inning when he again led off and sent a drive far over the centerfield fence.

Vet Glass came storming back with a three-run fourth inning.

Bicker reached first on an error and Stanley singled. Bickar later scored on an error to tie the count at 3-3. John Stoddard doubled to drive home Stanley with the tie-breaking run. Stoddard took third on a wild pitch and scored on Gerace's single.

Bickar was the winning pitcher and gave up six hits and only walked one. Natalina was charged with the defeat giving up seven hits while his teammates committed four errors behind him.

Stoddard and Wood with a double and single each paced the winners while Brewer's two home runs and Golden's pair of singles paced the losers.

Paraplegic May Quit School For Lack Of Parking

CHICAGO (AP)—Donald Bruns, a paraplegic Navy veteran who drives his car about 45 miles daily to the Loop to attend classes at a broadcasting school, may have to quit—unless he can find a place to park his car.

Bruns, who is learning to be a radio announcer, has to find a parking place in the block where the school is located. He can't go to school if he has to park across the street from the school, or one or two blocks away. He can't get over curbs in his wheel chair.

Bruns, who is 26, married and the father of a son and daughter, has been parking his car in a garage in the same block as the school for five weeks.

But, he said, the garage manager told him Tuesday he couldn't leave it there any more because

Reds Can Launch Rockets At Earth, Space Aide Says

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Clark C. Abt, manager of Raytheon Co.'s missile and space division, told members of the American Astronautical Society Tuesday the Soviet Union has the ability to launch weapons that can be fired from space at earth targets.

He said published data indicates that the United States will have a similar capacity by 1964.

Abt said such space-triggered nuclear rockets could become secretly orbiting nuclear stockpiles for an aggressor nation while an arms race is technically in force on earth.

The society, in its annual western meeting also heard Murray Kornhauser, a General Electric scientist, warn that an exploding meteorite could trigger a nuclear war by acting much like a nuclear explosion.

Vegetable Growers To Convene Tuesday

LISBON — Vegetable growers of Columbiana and Mahoning Counties will meet at the T. E. Stein farm, two miles west of Guilford, Tuesday, at 7 p. m. for the annual summer twilight event, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent in agriculture.

Various fruits and vegetables will be seen on the tour of the farm. The Stein roadside market will be visited. William Brooks, extension horticulturist at Ohio State University, will discuss soil and water management after the tour of the farm.

Richard Skinner, extension agent on market information for consumers, will also discuss farm marketing. Lower said.

Canton Firm Awarded $23,100 Beyond Bid

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A three-man board of arbitrators has approved payment to Ferrell Construction Co. of Canton of $23,100 above the contract price for the construction of the Akron-Canton Airport terminal.

The arbitrators said $15,000 was due Ferrell Construction because the company in 1959 received a premature notice to begin work on the job. Rest of the fee was for expenses.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Exercise Tones Triceps Muscles

If you don't like the look of your upper arms in sleeveless dresses, you need double-action exercises to tone the triceps. Those muscles that flank the backs of the upper arms tend to get soft and flabby rather quickly.

I speak from experience. Having my arm in a sling for three weeks left me with sagging triceps. Horrors! So, I've been exercising with a 3-pound weight held in each hand.

The principle is this: When an iron dumbbell is held at the end of an exercising arm, this gives twice as much pull to under-exercised muscles . . . and twice the toning results. It's magic!

Measurable results are what you are after. Whip out the tape, roll up your sleeves and measure the upper arm at the largest area.

IT WILL HELP you to have an idea of what this measurement should be ideally. Here are the standard measurements, according to misses dress sizes: Size 10: upper arm 9 1/2; size 12: 10 1/4; size 14: 10; size 16: 11 1/2; size 18: 12 1/4; size 20: 13 inches; size 22: 13 1/2 inches.

Average arm measurements in women's dress sizes are just slightly fuller. Size 34: 11 1/2; size 36: 12 1/2; size 38: 12; size 40: 13 1/2; size 42: 14 1/2.

Now, a word about the triceps muscles. They are extensors or pushing muscles, so the arm beautifying routine is patterned on pushing and forcible extension — with dumbbells.

The equipment needed is iron dumbbells of two or three pound weights . . . later 5-pound dumbbells can be used. As a substitute for weights, exercise with a heavy book grasped in each hand.

Position: Lie on back, dumbbells at shoulders. Have elbows straight out from shoulders, this helps to straighten out the shoulders. Legs may be straight down, or knees flexed, soles of feet flat on floor, whichever feels most comfortable.

Action: Raise dumbbells to arms' length above chest . . . touch dumbbells together, separate and lower to original position. Breathe in as you extend arms, breathe out as arms are lowered. Repeat five times only . . . exercising slowly. Relax and rest.

TO TEST EXACTLY what you are accomplishing, perform exercise with only one hand. Place the free hand on the droopy triceps muscles on the soft underpart of the upper arm. Feel the action as you raise the dumbbell slowly aloft.

It's fun to exercise when you can look forward to fast returns for your efforts.

Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet, "Weight-Training For Curve Building." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I relieve chafed skin, caused by perspiration during warm weather?

A. By use of fuller's earth. Wash the chafed parts and dry just a little. Dust the fuller's earth on the dampened surface and rub in carefully. Follow this procedure before retiring and there will be no trace of irritation the next morning.

Q. How can I impart a pleasant, delicate scent to my handkerchiefs?

A. By placing in the handkerchief box a blotter that has been slightly moistened with your favorite perfume or cologne.

Q. What is a quick and easy way to shine a piece of aluminum-ware?

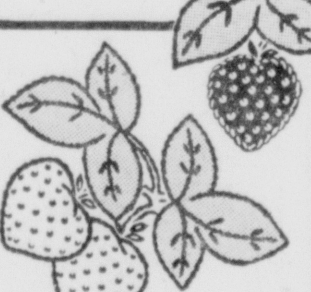

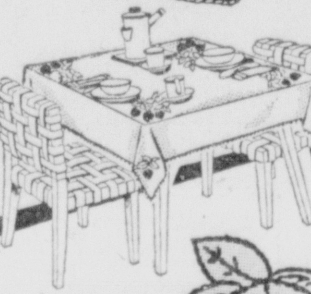

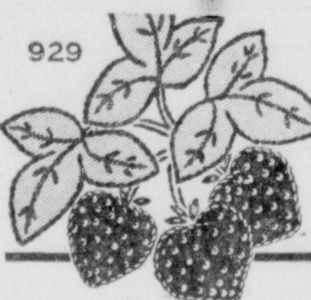

A. A peeled apple, rubbed over the surface of the aluminum, will make it gleam like new.

Insect Bites Cause Allergies, Medical Specialist Declares

By The Associated Press

Insect allergy, hazards in partially smoked cigarettes, and safe new sedatives are items in the medical news.

Insect Dust

Bits and pieces of common insects floating in the air are an important cause of hay fever and asthma, says an allergy specialist.

House flies, May flies, aphids, beetles, mites and other creatures contribute to the dust which humans inhale.

Some people are allergic only to the insect dust, while others get their troubles from a combination of the dust, molds, and pollen. The insect allergy is more common in Southern than in Northern states.

Many victims can be desensitized with anti-allergy shots, Dr.

Samuel M. Feinberg of Northwestern University writes in Consultant magazine.

Relighters

The habit of relighting half-consumed cigarettes may double a smoker's chances of getting lung cancer, say three British physicians.

They checked on 700 patients in Manchester hospitals. Among persons smoking 10 to 19 cigarettes daily, there were twice as many cases of lung tumors among those who relit cigarettes. The same held true for persons smoking 20 to 29 cigarettes daily, but differences were less clear among those smoking 30 or more. Drs. John Dark, M. Pemberton and Marion Russell write in The Lancet.

"If relighting is a factor in lung cancer, it might go part way to explain the much greater incidence of the disease in Britain than in the United States where, since cigarettes are cheaper, there may be less temptation to relight half-smoked 'dimps' or partially consumed cigarettes, they said.

Barbiturates are estimated to account for 800 to 900 suicides a year.

But now researchers tell of two new sedatives which they claim induce sleep but are safe regardless of over-dosage. One is a synthetic developed in Germany, the other a barbiturate combined with a restorative which takes over if the person takes too many pills. says World Medical News.
